FRIENDLY cushions, fashioned with the comfort of an easy chair, invite relaxation as your McLaughlin-Buick sweeps smoothly along.

Comfort that invites Relaxation

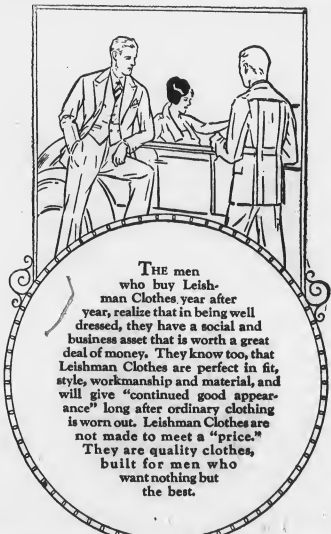

In the designing of McLaughlin-Buick for 1928, riding ease and comfort have been given unusual consideration. Lovejoy Shock absorbers on all four wheels absorb and cushion every road-shock and rebound. Rubber Engine Mountings prevent vibration from reaching the car-body. Extra deep, resilient seat cushions, beautifully upholstered, are specially shaped and tailored to fit, like an easy chair. The lower body-lines have been attained without any sacrifice of headroom. And in finish and appointments, McLaughlin-Buick establishes a standard of luxury which vies with your drawing-room or club.

The G.M.A.C. Deferred Payment Plan offers many advantages to buyers of McLaughlin-Buick cars.

"The End of the Road"

At the Palace theatre on Monday evening the film entitled "The End of the Road" will be shown. This startling picture is shown under the auspices of the Canadian Social Hygiene Council, with the approval of the Alberta Dept. of Public Health, and none under 16 years will be admitted. It deals with those terrible diseases too often consequent on immorality, and Mrs. Emily Murphy, judge of the juvenile court, Edmonton, commenting on it, says: "If any think that ignorance is bliss, or even virtue, they should see 'The End of the Road'." The purpose of the film is to warn men and women, boys and girls from hidden evils of which they know not.

In addition to this picture a western feature film will be screened

A meeting of the vestry of St. Alban's church was held on Sunday evening following the service, and the financial report submitted by the church wardens, F. Graham and Mr. Morris. Though sufficient money had been contributed during the first three months of the year to pay current liabilities, very little was left over, besides which there is a small sum owing for lumber. It was decided that all church members who have not so far pledged themselves for giving a stated sum through the weekly envelope system or otherwise, be interviewed by members of the vestry so that the wardens may know approximately what the income will be for the year, and facilitate the meeting of the monthly expenses.

When Food Sours

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient, and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 60 years since its invention. It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist.

The Menace Of Wheat Rust

"During the last twenty years a certain parasitic fungus, known to the prophets from Moses to Burbank, has stolen half a million dollars' worth of wheat from the farmers of Western Canada."

With these introductory words, W. A. Irwin writes in a recent issue of Maclean's Magazine, of the tireless efforts being put forth in the Dominion Rust Laboratory at Winnipeg, and by the research departments of the three universities of the Prairie Provinces, to develop a rust resistant type of wheat. Mr. Irwin proceeds to say:

"Twenty years ago, Manitoba's hard bread wheat was at once the standard and the envy of the world. Last year more than half of Manitoba's wheat crop was useless for bread-making. Why? The answer is 'rust'."

"Last year, Alberta produced four-fifths as much wheat on six and a quarter million acres as Saskatchewan produced on thirteen million acres. Why? The answer is 'rust'."

"Last year, up until the end of December, of the wheat from the entire West, only thirty-five per cent. graded Number Three Northern or better, as compared with fifty-five per cent. so graded during the previous year. Why? The answer is 'rust'."

"Last year, Manitoba produced only 30,000,000 bushels of wheat as compared with 50,000,000 bushels in 1926. Why? The answer is 'rust'."

"Nor is that the whole story. Since 1907 rust has inflicted an average of $25,000,000 a year from the Western wheat grower, a total of half a billion dollars. In one year, 1916, the loss from rust damage reached the colossal sum of $200,000,000. In 1923, 20,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat that might have gone into the markets of the world fell a prey to the rust scourge. More than that, thanks to the rust scourge, it now is impossible to grow Marquis wheat in great areas of southern Manitoba and those who know best decide, without equivocation, that a similar fate would overtake all of that province and most of Saskatchewan if this new thrust of Nature were allowed to run its course unchallenged."

Even to Western farmers who know, to their own sorrow, the terrible ravages of rust, these statements, showing the enormous extent of the losses sustained, and the gravity of the menace to the future of wheat growing in the West, will come as a surprise and a distinct shock. It is revealed by these facts and figures that 'rust' is levying a heavier toll on Western farmers than customs tariffs, or freight rates, or hail, or many other things which have long commanded the attention of farmer organizations.

Rust, hail and noxious weeds are the great enemies of the Western farmer. Weeds can be eradicated through the combined efforts of rural municipal councils and individual farmers, and they can be prevented by the adoption of good farming methods, and the use of only good, clean seed. Insurance against losses by hail can be secured, even if the occurrence of hail cannot be prevented or controlled. But there has been established that rust cannot be prevented or eradicated; that there is no bread wheat in the known world that is immune from rust; that, consequently, the only hope lies in the development of a type of bread wheat that is rust resistant.

As is pointed out in Mr. Irwin's article, it is the same old story of the pioneer's audacity all over again. In the beginning, the West couldn't find a wheat that would grow fast enough to escape the spring and autumn frosts north of the forty-ninth parallel. So it called in the plant breeder and made wheats that would grow fast enough. Now it's a wheat that won't feed rust.

The story of the campaign now being waged to develop such a wheat is an inspiring one. Furthermore, the progress thus far made is highly encouraging, even though the battle is yet far from being won, or the end of the struggle in sight. Dr. Bailey, who has been in charge of the Dominion Rust Laboratory in Winnipeg, will make no definite predictions, but he told Mr. Irwin, "I think I can say with reasonable certainty that we have succeeded in capturing rust resistance in a broad variety of types. We have several resistant lines now, some of them in the fourth generation, and they seem to be fairly stable, but we have no guarantee that they will have satisfactory quality."

It is not in itself sufficient to develop a rust resistant type of bread wheat. Such a type must also be satisfactory from the standpoint of yield per acre, early maturity, milling quality, baking quality, and all the others demanded by a wheat improving world. Therefore, said Dr. Bailey, "if quality is not satisfactory, we'll have to start breeding for it and if we can't breed for quality from the resistant lines already developed, well—we'll have to start all over again."

It is not the West alone that is vitally interested in the success of this great undertaking, but all Canada, indeed, the whole world. The Dominion Government is spending about $50,000 a year on the maintenance of this centralized rust research, a mere bagatelle compared with the average of $25,000,000 a year loss which rust imposes on the country. The experts carrying on this important work are immensely underpaid and there is grave danger of losing their services. Farmers and business men of the West should not only insist that there be no meanness in the remuneration paid these men, and their services retained, but the Dominion Government should be urged to stop at no expense necessary to bring these really wonderful experiments to a successful conclusion at the earliest possible date.

Farmer Drives Over Explosive

Shell in War Zone Kills Four Horses and Injures Man

Death still lurks in the soil of the war zone, after ten years of mechanical clearing.

Maurice Rebekot was ploughing a field at Lovre when one of the horses struck with its hoof the head of a six-inch shell buried just under the surface. It exploded, blowing the four horses to fragments and injuring Rebekot.

The following day a Polish farmer found a twelve-inch shell and threw it into the air in fun to scare his comrade. It landed on the cap, exploded, and killed him.

The First Trouser Pocket

Before the time of the trousers pocket, men carried their money in a little bag of cloth tied about his waist. Often, however, a thief would slip up behind, still the string with a knife and make with the treasure. A thoughtful Frenchman, 300 years ago, sewed the bag in the lining of his garments, thereby instituting the first trousers pocket.

In nine months 150,000 persons have visited the health spas of Czechoslovakia, which stands as a record for health resorts.

The position of manager of the association with head office at Toronto, Ontario, is as yet vacant, but hopes are held that a suitable man will be secured shortly. The list of candidates submitted was not satisfactory. A delegation of eastern and western members is anxious to secure the consent of R. J. Population Of Saskatchewan

Rural Population More Than Double the Urban

The population of Saskatchewan, as at June 1, 1926, was 820,733, an increase in the five-year period from the quinquennial census of 1921, of 63,228, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa. In this total males exceeded females by 72,134. The rural population was more than double the urban, at 758,206 compared with 312,529. In the latter seven cities, 80 towns and 26 villages are included. Regina's population is set at 37,329; Saskatoon's at 31,234 and Moose Jaw's at 19,039.

It Has Many Qualities—"The man who possesses a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is armed against many ills. It will relieve a cough, break a cold, prevent sore throat; it will reduce the swelling from a sprain, relieve the most persistent sores and will speedily heal cuts and contusions. Ancient Wood Carver Passes

Credited With Being the Originator Of Famous Cigar Store Indian

Louis John, one of the Quebec artists, is dead at the age of 86. He was a figure known to thousands of tourists who visited him in his little studio near the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre and bought samples of his work. John's craft was an ancient one that went back to the Indians. He was credited with being the originator of the famous cigar store Indian.

Born at St. Raymond, Portneuf county, Quebec, he was known as one of the world's greatest carvers. Perhaps his most distinctive work, and certainly his best known one, is his huge statue of the Blessed Virgin which towers above Cape Trinity at the entrance to the Saguenay River and is known as Our Lady of the Saguenay. It stands 25 feet high.

Canadians May Sail For Antarctic

Reported That Two Canadian Citizens May Join Commander

Byrd's Expedition. When Commander Richard E. Byrd sets sail for the Antarctic next fall, with his expedition culminating in an epoch-making flight across the South Pole, there is a possibility that he will be accompanied by two Canadians.

There is a possibility of Dr. L. D. Livingstone, F.R.G.S., of Ottawa, who is connected with the Northwest Territories branch of the Interior Department, and Inspector A. H. Joy, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, going with Commander Byrd, though definite arrangements have not been completed.

Both Dr. Livingstone and Inspector Joy have had vast experience in the Arctic regions.

God and the C.N.R.

Repentant Sinner Reimburses Railroad for Two Stolen Riders

Just what heaven has to do with railroads has never been properly defined. The attempt to link the two was made recently, however, and by one of those who for such an act and receive whose trips in the "side-door Pullman" caused him much heart-searching. He did it, in a manner of speaking, by putting God at the head of the Canadian National Railways. When Sir Henry Thornton heard it, he issued no denial, but merely remarked: "Of course. That accounts for the quality of our service to the people of Canada."

Joseph Madill, Canadian National district passenger agent at Edmonton, may have realized this but he got the shock of his life, nevertheless, when he received this letter from Stamp, Idaho:

"Dear Sir—Some years ago I was hired at the Edmonton office to go to Drumheller to work on a B. & G. engine. I rode to Drumheller and failed to get out to work. I have since road one from Big Valley to Mutton on a freight train."

"I have become a Christian and feel that I must pay this bill. I hope you will forgive me for such an act and receive this money in the same manner. God has forgiven me, and I owe it to God and the Canadian National Railway."

"I enclose please find $7.50, seven dollars and fifty cents, which I hope will cover the bill, but if not, let me know and I will send the rest."

Bird Migration Is Remarkable

Difficult to Understand What Gives Them Impulse to Start

United States Biological Survey has proofs that two black-headed gulls have made the trip from Germany across the ocean, while two kittiwakes, let alone in England, were found in Newfoundland. Also a young Arctic tern, banded in Labrador, reached France, but was dead when picked up. Then there are birds that spend the summer in Canada, but in the winter they are known to be in Argentina and Chile.

The thing most difficult to understand is how birds know enough to cross the ocean. It may seem like the question of a child, but it is puzzling enough for the adult mind to think over—how do birds know they will come to land after flying the thousands of miles over the ocean? What is it that gives them the impulse to start in the first place, and how are they able to reckon so well that they actually do reach the shore on the other side?

They have no navigating instruments; they make no study of weather charts; they can take along no chicken sandwiches and not coffee, and certainly they can carry no life rafts; likewise they are without a trip. It's remarkable, even when allowance is made for the fact that young birds may have older companions on their first trip.

Canadian Grain Arriving in Liverpool Sold To Be Low Grade

John Millar (Liberal-Progressive, Qu'Appelle), asked the Government if any complaints had been received from Britain regarding the condition in which Canadian grain was arriving in that country.

Hon. James Macdonald, minister of trade and commerce, said that a letter had been received from the Liverpool Corn Exchange saying that the grade had been noticeably lower in the past two years. Whether or not this was from bad seasons or from lowered inspection standards they could not tell, but that unless the standards were maintained the prestige of Canadian grain in that market would be damaged.

CONFERENCE ON RESOURCES WILL BE HELD SOON

Ottawa.—A conference between representatives of the Dominion and provincial governments concerned with the natural resources of the provinces will be summoned to meet at the close of the present parliamentary session to attempt to reach an agreement with regard to the return of the natural resources to the respective provinces. This is disclosed in correspondence on the matter which was tabled in the House of Commons.

The correspondence was between Premier King, Premier J. B. Brownlee, of Alberta, and Premier John Bracken, of Manitoba. In it Premier Bracken refers to the Federal Government's "prompt and generous manner of instituting the Duncan report concerning the Maritime Provinces," and suggests regarding the western natural resources that "the time is singularly opportune for the settlement of this question by arbitration."

Replying, Premier King said: "In arranging for arbitration we can see some objection to sending the question to the privy council, and it would therefore be well that we should reach an agreement both with respect to the terms of reference for the arbitration and the tribunal to which the matter is referred." Later he suggested that a conference should be held immediately following the close of the present parliamentary session.

The correspondence with Premier Brownlee is confined to an exchange of telegrams. Premier Brownlee declares that his government is prepared "actively to renew negotiations leading to a complete settlement of the questions as soon as the present session is over." In the meantime, the Alberta Government was considering references to the privy council, but was not prepared to commit itself to the position of appellant.

Union With Newfoundland

Any Proposal Would Be Welcomed By People Of Canada

Ottawa.—Any representations for union between Canada and Newfoundland would receive the consideration of the Canadian Senate. This was elicited recently from the debate which was precipitated by the resolution of Senator C. E. Tanner, which declared that "it is the opinion of this House, Canada should favorably consider any proposal that may be made by Newfoundland for union with the Dominion of Canada."

Speaking to his resolution, Senator Tanner declared that the Senate could not make anything in the form of a definite proposal. That must necessarily come from the authority of the country, either the government of Canada or that of Newfoundland. But the Senate was justified in putting upon record its views in regard to public opinion in Canada. Any proposal from Newfoundland for union with Canada would be considered by the people of this country would be ready to sit down and talk the matter over in a friendly spirit. The Senator pointed to the community of interest between Newfoundland and the maritime provinces and to the increasing trade between the two countries. He praised Newfoundland's war effort and its loyalty to a common crown.

Sensor Tanner felt that it was desirable that the units of the empire should be consolidated "further than they are if the people of Newfoundland should desire." The senator said he would like to entertain a vision when not only Newfoundland but also the British West Indies—all units of the empire on this side of the Atlantic—would be consolidated into one great dominion.

Unity Of Empire

Canberra, Australia.—Questioned in the House of Representatives regarding the recent statement of Premier J. B. M. Hertzog, of the Union of South Africa, to the effect Great Britain is involved in a war, Premier Stanley E. Bruce declared that when the King was at war all parts of the Empire were involved, although each parliament could decide the extent of any active participation.

Conditions Of Poultry Business Unsatisfactory Says Cowichan

Victoria, B.C.—Hon. No. 6 which broke all egg production records a year ago, advertised British Columbia poultry to the world and brought thousands of dollars in orders to the University of British Columbia pen but she has merely helped to complicate the market situation. That is the view of Captain A. B. Mathews, of the Cowichan Creamery Association, one of the largest co-operative dairy and poultry concerns in Western Canada.

"The condition of the poultry business is unsatisfactory," reported Captain Mathews. "Not only has the number of birds increased very rapidly, but egg production per bird is also increasing. Hon. No. 6 may be the eighth wonder of the world, but unless the boosting of egg production is supplemented by some intelligent system of organized marketing, the 300-egg hen may be a curse to the industry rather than a blessing."

It was reported at the meeting that Canadian shipping eggs to the United States had lost approximately $40,000 during the last few months owing to the market conditions.

Test Pulverized Coal

Will Attempt To Demonstrate Commercial Possibilities Of Fuel

Ottawa.—Development of the commercial possibilities of pulverized coal will be proceeded with immediately by the government. To test and demonstrate possibilities, the government will (a) adapt one of its steamers on the Pacific coast to use pulverized coal; (b) use pulverized coal in one of the government buildings in British Columbia.

In making this announcement to the House of Commons, Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, said he thought there was a bright future for pulverized fuel, especially for use on freighters. Pulverized fuel was no longer in an experimental stage.

The matter was brought up on a resolution by A. W. Neill (Independent, Comox-Alberni).

Heads Research Council

Sir Joseph Flavelle Will Be Chairman Of Research Council In Ontario
Toronto.—Sir Joseph Flavelle, prominent Toronto capitalist and philanthropist, will be chairman of the industrial research council for the province of Ontario. The council was created by the Ontario legislature, Premier Ferguson announced in the House.

A research council composed of University men and men interested in the various industries, including agriculture, is to be established. Persons interested in the work may contribute money to the board, and for each dollar contributed by private individuals the Government will contribute another dollar. The plan is to raise a sum of $2,000,000 in five years, the Government paying $200,000 a year, provided private contributions are of equal proportion.

Bicycle Teams Sold Race

Managers and Trainers Harred From Future Events In Germany

Berlin.—Berlin's 26-day bicycle race, which ended March 15, has had a sensational sequel in the revelation that the three leading teams were found guilty by the League of German Bicycle Riders of selling out to a betting ring less than six hours before the race ended.

Several managers and trainers of the teams implicated in the scandal have been definitely barred from future participation in German events.

Plague In Prison Camp

Sydney, N.S.W.—Following the murder of two white officers in the Solomon Islands last October, 170 tribesmen were rounded off and corralled in a hastily constructed camp. Word has now been received here that dysentery has broken out in the camp. Out of 40 natives affected, seven have died. The magistrate to try the prisoners is now on the way from Fiji.

Will Discuss Thanksgiving Date

Ottawa.—A committee on Thanksgiving Day should be celebrated on the same day—November 11. This is the practice advocated by K. J. Lader, Conservative, Vancouver South, in a resolution placed on the order paper of the House. The suggestion will be discussed shortly in Parliament.

Date trees in the world total 90,000,000, according to a recent estimate.

Start For North Pole

Advance Guard For Wilkins' Expedition Begins Long Trip

Rome.—The advance guard and other equipment for the aerial expedition over the North Pole is headed for Arctic regions.

The ice breaker, City of Milan, which will be used as a mobile base by General Umberto Nobile for his dirigible flights over the Polar regions, sailed from Spezia for Kings Bay, Spitzbergen. The ship is outfit with the latest scientific instruments and carries a wireless receiving and transmitting set.

The ship is expected to reach its Northern goal before the end of April and by that time the Polar summer daylight will have begun. Norwegian workmen are to refit the hangar at Spitzbergen, used by the dirigible Norge on its trans-Polar flight in 1926, for the Italian, General Nobile's present craft.

The Italia successfully completed a test flight of 22 hours with a full load of supplies and a complement of 21 men under General Nobile. It is now at the Baggio airport, near Milan, and is expected to start northward about the middle of April.

Besides helping to discover the fabled frozen continent of the North, Wilkins intends to find suitable locations for weather observing stations.

WILL CENTRALIZE RESEARCH WORK AT THE CAPITAL

Ottawa.—Centralized industrial research made possible by the decision of the Dominion Government to establish national research laboratories at Ottawa, will be of distinct benefit to Canadian universities, as well as to Canadian industries.

Co-operating with the National Research Council, the universities have for the past ten years voluntarily given over their laboratories and their staffs to investigations outside the strict limits of academic research. The step finally decided upon at Ottawa, on the instant representation of the National Research Council, means that these facilities will once more be liberated for the service of pure science.

The council will continue the bursaries and scholarships with which, since its creation it has stimulated the training of research specialists, to supplement foreign-trained experts in Canadian industries. The fitting of scientists for research work is of the utmost importance to Canada, whose industries are still in an infant stage of development. It is pointed out, almost all of them finding employment in Canada. Before the inauguration of these awards it was necessary for the Canadian student to go abroad to complete his training, with the result that he usually found employment abroad and was lost to his own country.

American institutions of learning give 2,000 such scholarships annually, the majority of which are open to Canadian students. One of the great needs of today is an increased number of such scholarships, so that Canadian universities may maintain graduate schools for training in science and research of a sufficiently high standard to eliminate the necessity of the most brilliant graduates going abroad to complete his education and possibly taking his valuable knowledge permanently out of the Dominion. Such graduate schools will provide the technicians required by the universities and the government service, as well as the national industries.

Manitoba Flight Abandoned
Winnipeg.—Word was received here indicating that the proposed test flight to Northern Manitoba of Commander Richard E. Byrd's South Pole plane has been definitely abandoned.

British Settlers for Canada

A good example of the type of British farm settlers now arriving in Canada can be seen from the photo taken on the concourse at the Windsor Street Station, at Montreal. This group, which forms part of the 400 settlers who arrived recently on the S.S. Moquin, are the first contingent this season of British farm laborers brought out under the auspices of the Canadian Pacific Railway Colonization Department.

They possess a thorough farming training, therefore being well equipped for the duties they are to take up in Ontario, where farms have already been arranged for them by the government.

Wants To Explore Northwest By Plane

Toronto Man Makes Application To Department Of Interior

Ottawa.—An ultra-modern mining application made to the department of the interior by Col. Cyril D. H. Alpine, of Toronto, said to be acting for the Lindley interests, asks for the right to explore by hydroplane the northwest territories north of latitude 60, and at the same time to be given the exclusive right for a limited time to stake mining claims in that area.

The applicants pointed out that it would bring into review the policy of the government in co-operating with private capital in the exploration of extremely remote territories which for the present is beyond the reach of the ordinary prospector. The syndicate would agree to supply the department with air view notes and other information gathered as the exploration was carried on.

No decision has yet been given by the department but it is understood that a measure of the request may be granted. Cost of the exploration would be about $200,000.

Flies Over London

African Monarch Views World's Metropolis From Air

London.—The first royal aeroplane tour over London on record was successfully carried out by King Amannullah, of Afghanistan, flew in a large Imperial Airways liner over the city starting from Croydon and returning there after a swing through the air taking in the Crystal Palace, the Tower Bridge, St. Paul's, Westminster Abbey, Buckingham Palace, Chelsea and the southwest London district.

The Afghan monarch appeared intensely interested in the excursion and moved about in the plane viewing the various scenes through binoculars.

Smuggling Conspiracy

London.—Reports that Scotland Yard has unearthed a mysterious arms smuggling conspiracy seeking to provide arms for Irish republicans are published in the Evening Standard. Scotland Yard believes the weapons were smuggled into London for the purpose of arming companies of an Irish republican army, says the newspaper, adding that detectives have estimated that there are 100 Irish smugglers in London engaged in a illicit trade in revolvers and automatic pistols.

British Medical Men

Coming To Canada

Arrangements Being Made For Convention At Winnipeg In 1930

Toronto, Ont.—In connection with the proposed meeting of the British Medical Association in Winnipeg, Man., in 1930, a program is already being arranged whereby the visiting medical men will be enabled to see as much of the Dominion as possible before they return to Great Britain. Dr. T. C. Routley, Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Medical Association, is sailing at the end of this month for the Old Country to arrange details of the 1930 meeting of the British Medical Association in Winnipeg, which is expected to be the greatest gathering of doctors ever held in the Empire.

This will be the third meeting of the British Medical Association outside of the British Isles, both of the previous meetings having been held in Canada, in Montreal in 1917, and in Toronto in 1906.

After a week in Winnipeg, the British doctors will be taken through the Rockies to the Pacific Coast, and back again by another line. They will see the prairies, the mountains and the wealth of British Columbia. They then will be taken through the Maritime Provinces.

With Ocean Flying

British Air Ministry Thinks Legislation Would Be Unwise

London.—A stand against Government supervision of trans-Atlantic flying was taken in the House of Commons by the air minister, Sir Samuel Hoare. The minister told the House that in his opinion it would be unwise for a department of the government to obtain legislative powers of that kind.

He added that while he agreed in the advisability of not attempting such flights until better qualified machines are available, he thought formidable difficulties would be found to stand in the way of any attempt to control by the government.

His statements came in reply to suggestions that the government impose some sort of control on people desiring to fly across the Atlantic to be sure that they possessed adequate knowledge of the air and navigation and properly equipped machines.

Given Free Hand

Alberta Cabinet Can Sell Government-Owned Railways

Edmonton.—Premier Brownlee and his cabinet were given a free hand in future negotiations to sell the provincial government-owned railways, at a session of the Alberta legislature. Premier Brownlee will probably leave for Ottawa at an early date.

The premier presented a showing a vast improvement attained in revenue by the A.G. and W. and the E.D. and B.C. lines for the first two months of 1928, over the corresponding period of 1927.

It is expected a summer session will be called if the railway situation is to be considered.

NATIONS FROWN ON DISARMAMENT PLAN OF SOVIETS

Geneva, Switzerland.—Twenty-two of the 25 countries represented on the preparatory committee for a disarmament conference are lined up against the Soviet plan for immediate complete disarmament.

Hugh S. Gibson, the United States; Calixto Whitmarsh, Cuba; Baron Rollin Jacquemans, Belgium; Jonkeer Rutgers, Holland; E. Heening, Sweden; M. S. Poland, and M. Markovitch, Yugoslavia, among others, are among those of Lord Cusheuden, making the Russian defeat overwhelming.

London.—The Evening News, commenting on the speech of Lord Cusheuden, British delegate at Geneva, expressing profound doubt of the Russian scheme of complete disarmament being possible under present conditions, says it is a real treat to see whistling through the League of Nations council chamber for once not a bouquet but a commendably heavy and well-aimed brickbat. "Lord Cusheuden deserves the thanks of the civilized world for his judicious and skillful use of his strong right arm," The News says.

The Evening Star editorially says if the League of Nations could be convinced of Russia's good faith the Soviet peace proposals might be assured a friendly hearing.

DIFFICULTY OF MAKING TARIFF TO PLEASE ALL

Ottawa.—Budget changes to the tariff on woolen goods, sheep skins and other articles, have brought sharp discussion in the House. Conservatives attacked the changes as having been inspired by English woolen interests. The tariff, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Opposition leader, charged, seemed to have been moulded by Huddell and Bradford rather than by Canadians for Canadians. Hon. Gurnie further expressed resentment at what he termed the "interference of Yorkshire mill men."

Hon. James A. Robb, minister of finance, remarked that there were instances where Canadian manufacturers had made representations to the British Government through the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in London. Representations of a similar nature had been made to the governments of South Africa, New Zealand and Australia, in an effort to obtain privileges in woolen markets.

At this very moment, said Mr. Robb, representatives of Canadian agricultural interests were at Washington before the United States tariff board in connection with the importation into the United States of milk and cream. The minister said that the discussion proved the difficulty of making a tariff which would suit everybody in Canada. The debate tonight had shown that the woolen industry was not over prosperous, but the T.A.B. in considering how best to help the woolen manufacturers had before them the alternatives of raising the duty on the finished fabric or giving grants for the production of the raw material. Mr. Robb believed that the course taken, the latter one, would commend itself to the people of Canada.

Conscription Of Wealth

Manitoba Command Of Canadian Legion Endorses Resolution

Winnipeg.—Endorsement of the resolution that property as well as men be conscripted in time of war was given by the third annual convention of the Manitoba Command of the Canadian Legion, British Empire Service League, held at the Hotel Macdonald. The resolution was submitted to the next convention of the British Service League, to be held in Australia in 1930, also passed the convention.

Reaffirmation was given to a resolution on immigration, which recommended that the Dominion Government put into force the principle of the quota system from countries other than those of the British Empire and that at least 70 per cent. of all immigration be of British stock. Lieut. Col. Ralph H. Webb, Winnipeg, was re-elected president of the Manitoba Command. Mr. E. Spencer, of Morden, Man., was elected Dominion representative.

Power Contract Closed

Manitoba Company Will Supply Government With 30,000 Horsepower Yearly

Winnipeg.—The Manitoba Power Company has closed a contract with the provincial government to supply 30,000 horsepower annually from its site at Seven Sisters Falls. The contract will operate over a period of 36 years at the end of which provision is made whereby the government can take over the private plant as a publicly owned utility.

According to Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General, the power will be sold to the government at a rate of $13.50 per horsepower. This figure, he claimed, was the most favorable rendered anywhere on the continent.

Alberta Legislature Prorogued

Edmonton.—After a session which lasted seven weeks, the Alberta Legislature was prorogued by Lieut.-Gov. Robert. Before prorogation His Honor assented to 81 bills. The final sitting was devoted to a debate on the railway situation which Premier Brownlee had previously announced may be made the object of a special midwinter session—and the clearing order paper of three or four bills which were given final reading.

Capture Deer In Vancouver

Vancouver, B.C.—While walking along Broughton Street in the west end of the city, two men captured a full-grown deer when it dashed toward them. A number of dogs from nearby residences were in eager pursuit of the animal. Where the deer came from is a mystery. It was uninjured and had apparently travelled considerable distance.

THE COLEMAN JOURNAL

Published Every Thursday at Coleman, Alberta. H. T. Halliwell, Proprietor.

THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1928

Make Use of the Local Newspaper

The local newspaper is the best medium by which a merchant can not only keep his customers informed of what he has to sell, the prices and other information which is of shopping interest, but he can develop customer good-will and maintain a close touch which no city house can. By spending a portion of his time each week in devising an advertisement which will interest the people, it will undoubtedly pay handsomely. No city newspaper, catalogue or other form of advertising can begin to take the place of the local weekly newspaper, and the wise merchant will see in it a valuable asset for developing local business. As a store is judged by its outward appearance, so can a splendid impression be given by its advertising. The Journal goes into the homes, people read it for the local news, and local advertising is equally as interesting as the local news, especially among the women, who do the bulk of the buying. And we have no hesitation in advocating the limits and merits of The Journal as a local advertising medium, even though we run the risk of being accused with blowing our own trumpet.

Service Before Self?

Never was there a more misused word today than the word service. Service clubs, so-called, harp on it continually. They meet once a week to hold a confab which often takes the form of a mutual admiration society, and then proceed to round up the citizens in a drive for some local enterprise, which the public subscribe to according to their means, and when it is all over and the shekels counted, the president of the club tells the world what a grand thing the Skookum Rotary Club has accomplished.

As a chain is no stronger than its weakest link, so is a service club discounted to a considerable extent if it has among its members deadwood. There are some who will join any fraternal or other kind of organization for the cheap notoriety they may secure, yet in every day practice act in absolute violation of the principles which their service club advocates. One past-president of a small town service club is even on record as refusing the Salvation Army the right to hold a tag day, an organization, by the way, which has rendered more service to humanity in the lower stratas of life than any service club existing.

Service clubs cannot be 100 per cent. up to the standard set forth in their declaration of principles of ethics, but at the same time they will be subjected to criticism so long as they have among their membership men whose every-day actions point them out clearly as mere hypocrites when it comes to talking of "service before self" and other kinds of advocacy. Paul Harris, the founder of the modern service club movement, had a grand ideal in mind when he instituted his first club of a handful of members in Chicago less than a quarter of a century ago, but he never intended it to be used in a commercial sense for the self-aggrandizement of individual members.

CleanUp Time

Winter accumulations of refuse are now bared to the public gaze, compelling self-respecting citizens to get busy with the shovel and the rake cleaning up and tidying their back-yards and lanes. In some places around town there are evidences that the front yard has been mistaken for the back, or else the tenants were too lazy to dump their ashes where the common laws of decency would urge most people to. However, most people have sufficient pride in their surroundings to need no urging to clean up and to paint their buildings if it is within their power, but unfortunately there are always some who need the visit of a health officer to make them really understand that the by-laws of the town must be observed.

Stepping Along

The day has long since passed when people living in the smaller towns are content with things as they used to be. The inter-travel that takes place between the towns and cities, and the ease with which people can by means of the motor car travel to populous centres and even to sea coast cities, creates a desire to see their own communities striving to rise beyond the backwoods stage. Another important factor of education and the broadening of the vision of the people and creating a desire for improvement is the moving picture theatre, where are shown not only interesting plays, but where the current news of important happenings is faithfully depicted on the screen in the most minute detail. No longer therefore are the people of small towns content with the second-rate or the second-best.

They want to be on par with their brethren of the cities. And after all, it is this desire which makes for improvement and progress all along the line.

There is no more practical university than the place where we do our daily work.

Notes by the Way

The dance held in aid of the swimming pool last Wednesday evening showed a profit of $38.00, states Chief Houghton. The pool was built largely through the efforts of the local Elks lodge, and any efforts made to reduce the debt should relieve the enthusiastic support of the citizens generally. Further dances will be held to reduce the debt.

Considering the small hall in which dancing takes place, this is a satisfactory showing. Coleman has not a sufficiently large hall to accommodate a fair sized gathering, and the largest place that could be made into a good auditorium or dance hall is closed. If some concerted effort could be made toward securing the old Miners Hall, what is now a white elephant and an eyesore on the main street could be turned to good community purposes, and enable gatherings of some size to be accommodated. The dance halls now in use require so many turns to be made that one either becomes dizzy or suffers as many bumps as when riding on a newly constructed railway line.

A town reflects the enterprise of its business men and citizens generally. Up to date stores, with attractive fronts, and good stocks, not only attract local business, but advertise to strangers that a town is alert. Nothing comes to him who waits, only death. That is why the man who waits for business to come to him finds that it dies a lingering death.

Fashion Note for Men—Trousers should be long enough to fall well over the shoes—but not long enough to cause the wearer to fall over the trousers. The once popular "Oxford Bags," permitting the occupant to take two steps forward before the pants showed any signs of advancement, are now considered passe or words to that effect.

Already, the bareball fans are talking of organizing, and it is hoped to have a good aggregation lined up by the opening of the season. There should be a good series of games arranged between the Pass towns, and so help to create a friendly rivalry to arouse the interest of the people. Here's hoping that Coleman will be on the baseball map.

The trouble with so many is that they regard what are really luxuries as necessities. Articles in the luxury or non-essential class are purchased, involving often considerable sums of money. Payments have to be met, resulting in standing off payment for articles which are absolute necessities. There are things all would like to have, but to get the greatest happiness from their use one must rest secure in the knowledge that they have been purchased with money saved, and not by mortgaging the future to an unreasonable extent which makes life unhappy in "trying to keep up with the Jones."

The man: "Two eggs poached medium soft, buttered toast, not too hard, coffee, not too much cream in it."

The waiter: "Yes sir. Would you like any special design on the dishes?"—Sour Owl.

VISCOUNT WILLINGDON
Canada's Governor General, who will visit this province next month

United Church Notes

A series of pre-Easter services will be held in the United church next week, (each evening) beginning with Tuesday, commencing at 7.30. The subjects will be planned to fit the occasion.

The Good Friday service will take the form of a preparatory and reception service. It is expected that each member of the congregation will plan to attend several of these services. It is possible that the ministers from the other congregations in the Pass will take part. The Group meetings will be cancelled for the week.

Will those who should be planning to become members please have their letters ready if they have them or give their names to the minister or some member of the Session. There are two letters already in.

There was a first class congregation on Sunday morning to greet Rev. Mr. Ennis of Cardston. His address on the intimate aspects of the work in China was a real inspiration and will not be soon forgotten. Mr. Ennis was very pleased to find the church so well filled for a morning service. The missionary spirit of the congregation is strong and the people are anxious to understand the task and measure up to it. Mr. Ennis will be most welcome at any time in Coleman.

It was a dear old lady's first ride in a taxi, and she watched with growing alarm the driver continually putting his hand outside the car as a signal to the following traffic.

"Young man," she said, "you look after that car of yours, and watch where you are going. I'll tell you when it starts raining."—Literary Digest.

The BABY

No mother in this enlightened age would give her baby something she did not know was perfectly harmless, especially when a few drops of plain Castoria will right a baby's stomach and end almost any little ailment. Just one warning: Beware of the genuine Fletcher's Castoria; that physicians recommend. Other preparations may be just as free from toxic and harmful drugs, but no child of this writer's is going to test them! Besides the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold.

That's the beauty of Castoria; its gentle influence. It does not irritate. It does all that castor oil might accomplish, without shock to the system. Without the evil taste. It's delicious! Being purely vegetable, you can give it as often as there's a sign of colic, constipation, diarrhea, or need to aid sound, natural sleep. Just one warning: Beware of the genuine Fletcher's Castoria; that physicians recommend. Other preparations may be just as free from toxic and harmful drugs, but no child of this writer's is going to test them! Besides the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold.

VALUABLE LANDS DISCOVERED

Fresh Resources Are Unveiled By Recent Surveys In North
Each year in Canada surveys are pushed farther into the hinterland and each advance discloses valuable resources of which citizens had not previously been aware. The Peace River District has been popularly thought of as the last "inland empire" in that direction, but an engineer of the Topographical Survey of the Department of the Interior during the summer of 1927 penetrated west and north of the outermost edge of Peace River and found a land of fertile grassy hills, of high rolling open plateaus upon which roam flocks of Rocky Mountain goats and highborn sheep and herds of caribou, and where the grizzly bear takes his ease with dignity. The country is drained by clear, cold, fish-teeming rivers and streams which have their rise in the glaciers of the main range of the Rockies to the west.

The investigations of the exploratory party extended in general over an area 80 miles west and 175 miles north of Hudson Hope, or roughly between latitudes 56 degrees and 58 degrees, and longitudes 122 degrees and 124 degrees. Fifteen years ago the south-eastern corner of this country, the nearest point to civilization, lay distant from Edmonton, a six weeks' journey of hard travelling. Now, with improved rail and steamboat facilities, it can be reached in summer in as many days. The south-east corner of this area was first touched in 1798 by Sir Alexander Mackenzie during his famous overland journey to the Pacific. Later on the more accessible portions of the Peace and Finlay Rivers were explored.

As a result of the season's work a total of about 10,000 square miles of new territory was covered and information obtained for the issue of a preliminary map.

CANADIAN NATIONALITY

Would Give Official Recognition To a Canadian Race
The public will await with keen interest the debate and the decision of the Canadian House of Commons on the bill introduced by Dr. Blaisett, of Springfield, to establish a Canadian nationality and a Canadian race. Certain provision has been made by the Government to give Canadian nationality to some official standing outside of Canada, but within the Dominion no one ever is born, married, or dies as a Canadian. They are listed as English, Scotch, Irish, Dutch, German, Russian or what not, but there is no recognition of the term "Canadian." Dr. Blaisett's motion asks the Government to give official standing to Canadian nationality for use in all documents and papers, and also to give official recognition to a Canadian race by subscribing to the principle that persons of white stock born in Canada for three or more generations should be entitled to classify themselves as of the Canadian race. The first matter, having to do with nationality, should be comparatively easy of settlement. The term "Canadian nationality" is so poor in spirit as to ask its citizens to be known by some other name than that of the country that has given them birth, or to which they will take whatever steps are necessary to give full effect to the purpose of Dr. Blaisett's motion with respect to nationality.—Manitoba Free Press.

Demand For British Youths

Manitoba Farmers Anxious To Secure Services Of Youths From Great Britain
So many applications have been received from farmers in Manitoba to engage the services of youths who are being sent out from Great Britain under the Boy Immigration scheme, that the Provincial Government has requested the authorities to increase the number from 50 to 100. Hon. A. L. Bert, Minister of Agriculture, stated that 175 farmers have filed applications for help. It is expected that the first batch of youthful immigrants will reach Manitoba this month.

Western Canada Hog Industry

West Will Soon Pass The Fifty Per Cent Mark In Hog Production
Western Canada will soon pass the 50 per cent mark in hog production in the Dominion. It was pointed out at the annual convention of the Western Canada Livestock Union. Steadily the percentage of select bacon hogs has been increasing and since grading has been effected the Western Canadian hogs have practically doubled the output of this class of hog. In 1927 there were 1,976,188 swine in Western Canada as against 865,097 in 1920.

Had Its Compensation

It was a very dark night. Murky clouds obscured the moon in such a way as to make driving dangerous in the uncertain light.
A motor car, was approaching the level crossing, travelling swiftly round the corner that led to the closed gates. At the precise moment an express train thundered over the crossing.
Too late, the driver of the car saw his danger. He tried to swerve, but a skid was the only result. With a loud crash he struck the last coach, and the car crumpled up on the track. For a few moments there was a great silence. Then came a thin voice.
"Well, it's cured my hiccup, anyway," and the driver crawled out of the wreck.

Encouraging Forestry Students

Every possible encouragement is being given by the British Columbia department of lands to students of the University who are studying forestry, to improve themselves in the practical side of their studies. Hon. T. D. Pattullo said that 100 of the students are used yearly on summer surveys. Others, upon graduation, had been taken on the departmental staff.

British Columbia Sheep

While British Columbia's sheep population increased by nearly 28,000 or 28 per cent, in 1927, it is pointed out that there is no danger of overproduction since only 40 per cent of the mutton and lamb consumed in the province is domestically raised.

A Super-Loud Speaker

Tested Under Favorable Conditions Heard Five Miles Away
A super-loud speaker which can turn the sound from a crystal set into a volume louder than that of the Albert Hall organ, has been brought to this country from the continent.

It is claimed to be the loudest loud-speaker in the world.
Tested under favorable conditions on the Lido it was heard five miles away. Built on the electro-dynamic principle and driven by a 1,500 volt generator, this loud-speaker has a 22 in. diaphragm, which floats on a pneumatic rubber pad; is said to have 100 per cent volume over any other in Britain; amplifies speech music, gramophone or radio; can address plainly without distortion a crowd of 150,000.

A gramophone record was connected to the giant speaker recently and an engineer in the basement was instructed to increase the volume of sound.

"Building our ears with cotton wool," says a listener, "we stood at the top of some stairs and listened to an organ record."
"Apart from the amazing compass and selectivity of the amplifier, the volume was so terrific that the walls of the building and the nylustrades could be felt rocking. The windows of the office door facing it swayed to the notes."

Putting Rural Credits Scheme Into Effect

Will Begin Work Within Next Two Months
The rural credit scheme sanctioned by Parliament, session before last, will be put into effect, probably within the next two months.

This is an act whose operation was contingent upon provinces going into the plan on a 50-50 basis. So far Nova Scotia, Manitoba, Alberta, and British Columbia have expressed in legislation, adherence to the plan. Saskatchewan has a plan of its own.

The Dominion act provides for a commissioner and staff at Ottawa and for local provincial boards to supervise loans. Fifteen million was appropriated by Parliament for the purpose which is designed to supplement existing credit facilities and provide for bridging what has been termed the "barren area" of credit between the short term loans of the banks and the long term mortgages of mortgage corporations.

Not Just What She Wanted

A portly country woman was paying a Christmas visit to her daughter's in London. She sat down in the train beside a hospital nurse and began to chat.
"Ah," she said, eyeing the nurse's uniform approvingly. "I don't know what she would do without the likes of you."

"Oh, now you are too kind," protested the nurse, with a smile. "I am quite sure you do things as worthy as my cart calls me."

Not Me, Miss," replied the old lady mournfully.

"I can kill a duck or fowl with the best, that I admit, but when it comes to human beings my cart calls me."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JESUS THE SUFFERING MESSIAH

Golden Text: "If any man would come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me."—Mark 8:34.

Lesson: Mark 8:27-34; 9:30-32; 10:32-34.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 63:7-9.

Explanations and Comments

The Demands Of Discipleship, verses 34-37.—One great truth, Jesus is the Messiah, the disciples had been taught. The Messiah must suffer, they had been told, but, as after-events proved, they had not grasped; a third great truth they were now told—the followers of the Messiah must suffer and sacrifice likewise.
To the multitudes as well as to the disciples Jesus said: "If any man would come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me." Denying oneself does not mean the giving up of this or that, but the giving up of self, the repudiating of all self-centered claims, the yielding of one's will to Christ's will. Not only must his Master endure the cross for him, but he must learn if he would be Christ's true follower, must be ready to suffer death, too. This Christ said, "I am the true vine, and my Father is the true vineyard," is Jesus's comment.

The beautiful thing is that instead of repelling men it drew them. He actually obtained the men whom he was hunting for, not by offering them worldly inducements, not by making such appeals as anybody but Christ would have made, but by addressing the sacrificial spirit in them, and saving an appeal to their latent desire for heroism. There is a wonderful tribute in Jesus' method to those who have never been destroyed, which can answer to the highest motives of the soul. It does not need to be bought by any low compensations, but which spring into full life when applied to the most heroic and unselfish plane. We know how, in consequence, this exultation in difficulty, this love of hardship, this sense of ease, became the characteristic of early Christianity. In the last summary description which Paul gives of Christian character and manhood, in the twelfth chapter of Romans we find him speaking of rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; and able to write his conception of the character of the warrior, we find him setting forth the foregoing. Endure hardship, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ."—Robert E. Speer.

For whomsoever he would have his life shall lose it; and whoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, he will save his life. He who would save his life shall lose it. The word life and the pronoun it referring to life, are used in a twofold sense. The sentence means: He who would save his life shall lose it; and he who shall lose his life for my sake shall find his spiritual life.

Refused Large Sum For Old Document

Offer Of American Did Not Tempt Corporation Of Bristol

The Bristol Corporation has refused the offer of $5,000 from an American millionaire for a page of a 17th century document which was recently discovered in a lumber-room of the corporation offices which was being cleared out to provide more space.
The document contained a complete list in clerical handwriting, of the servants sent out under compulsory indenture to the plantations of the West Indies and Virginia between the years 1658 and 1662.

Twelve thousand names appear on the list and one of these is the family name of the American who was anxious to buy the page on which it appeared.

The list of names is being made into a book, and will be published in America shortly.

Alberta Sheep For Aleutian Islands

A shipment of sheep from Alberta to the Aleutian Islands, off the Alaskan coast, is being made by J. Nolte, a farmer, of the Stettler district. This shipment will consist of 98 sheep and two rams, and is going forward from Stettler to Seattle and then on. This is the first shipment of Alberta sheep to the Aleutians.

Alberta Sugar Beets

General opinion is that the beet acreage in Southern Alberta will be about 10,000 in 1928 by one-third of an acre in 1927, making about 2,000 acres in place of 1,630 acres last year. Acre is already being signed up.

Fur Farming
Saskatchewan To Charge Annual Rental Of 25 Cents Per Acre
For Three Years
An annual rental of 25 cents an acre for three years and $1.00 an acre for each succeeding year is to be charged for lands used for fur farming in Saskatchewan, according to Hon. C. M. Hamilton, Minister of Agriculture. The proposed rental charge is to cover the actual acreage of the land and water under lease. The cost of administering the lands is to be borne by the Provincial Government and it has authority to collect and return the rentals. Altogether 92 applications have been received by the Department.

Ontario Wants To Secure Coal From Alberta Of Proper Quality
"Now that a rate has been set, some provision should be made to see that the coal is of proper quality," said Premier G. H. Ferguson, of Toronto, commenting on the board of railway commissioners' decision on the rate for Alberta coal moving east. There is no doubt that Alberta has plenty of the type of coal now needed, but on other occasions coal of poor quality was shipped." He intimated that the Alberta government should submit the coal to careful examination.

Douglas Fir In B.C.
A recent survey of the forest resources of British Columbia showed a total stand of approximately 76,000,000 cubic feet of Douglas fir. Douglas fir, which is not at present commercially accessible, a large proportion is within reasonable distance of water and rail transportation. About 50 per cent of it is situated on Vancouver Island and the adjacent mainland.

In the City all the street sounds this Christmas Eve were harsh, cold and hollow. Street cars clattered, whistled and roared through the Subway; horses' feet pounded on the pavement like blows on an anvil, and automobile brakes seemed to scream in fright and pain. Many a car turned hastily, expecting to see an accident, only to find it was just a car stopping. Cold, gray and hard lay the city on this day which should be the brightest of the year.

In the very great part of the day, when the sunlight was fading and the lamps were not yet lighted, the snow began weaving its changing patterns through the waiting air. The country people saw it falling, and said it had kept so well, and hoped for the sake of the cattle, that it would not fall too deep and cover all the grass. Snow was an old story to them, making them think of blocked roads, dead paths to the stables, and, worst of all, hungry cattle looking for food. But in the city the snow got a royal welcome.

"Now it does look like Christmas," the people called to each other on the street through their wet fur collars, as they hurried along with their shopping bags drooping with last-minute Christmas gifts. The red balls in the shop windows suddenly grew brighter, as if a candle had been lighted in them, and the Christmas wreaths sprinkled through the splinters of frost that began to come on the windows, for the approach of nightfall the cold increased. The hurrying bakers' wagons and coal-carts made frosty mounds on the snow, which in half an hour had covered the frozen roads. The Salvation Army captain on the corner stamped his red-mittened hands to-

SICK ABED EIGHT MONTHS

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Could Do All Her Work and Gained in Weight

Melfort, Saskatchewan.—"I had inward troubles, headaches and severe pains in my back and sides. I was so sick generally that I could not sit up and I was in bed most of the time for eight months. An aunt came to visit and help me as I was unable to attend to my baby and could not do my work. She told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking two bottles I could get up and dress myself. I also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood-Medicine. When I first took the medicine I only weighed seventy-eight pounds. Now I weigh twice as much. If I get out of sorts or weary and can't sleep I always take another bottle of the Vegetable Compound. I find it wonderfully good for female troubles, and have recommended it to my neighbors. I will be only too glad to answer any letters I receive asking about it."

WILLIAM RITCHIE, Box 438, Melfort, Saskatchewan.

W. N. U. 1728

She seized her valise and went on. The Army captain, relieved at that moment by the arrival of the adjutant, noticed her drooping shoulders as she went past him, and hurried after her. "May I help you?" he asked politely. "Helm's tips were dry and stiff, and she shook her head. "Have you friends here?" She shook her head. "You can get a room at the North Star Rooming House. If you are looking for one," he said. "See, it is just ahead of us; shall I carry your valise?"

Helmi hurried on without answering. He noticed that one overcoat was unbuckled and the loose tongue of the buckle had caught in the hem of her dress and was tearing it as she walked.

In her dire need of haste Helmi did not even know it. Reaching the "North Star" she walked up the stairs to the front door and entered without knocking. Mrs. Corbett, wife of the janitor, who happened to be coming out at the same moment, met her and cried out in astonishment. "God love you, poor girl! Where are you going?"

Helmi's pain-twisted face told its own story. Mrs. Corbett hurriedly put down the twine bag with which she had been going forth for a last shopping bout.

"I could see," said Mrs. Corbett afterwards in telling the story, "that the poor young thing would be worse before she was better, so I shut my trap, for it was sure no time for an argument, and I took her up the stairs to No. 18, which, thanks be to God, was empty, and I roared at the top of my voice for Mrs. Kalinski, who was in the kitchen. And then Mrs. Kalinski, who was expecting her own trouble to come out in the crook of her arm, ran back into her room and like the good Christian she is, though she is a Jew, she brought in her own little basket with the dotted muslin over the blue sashes, and everything in it that we needed, the burnt linen and all, and in half hour it was all over and the little beauty was lying on the foot of the bed with a smile on her face as if she had won a bet on some game that she had a spite at."

"Sure, we thought first it was wind on her poor little stomach she had, and we got the nice little hot-water bottle that Mrs. Kalinski had ready for her own little family. But it was in the blanket with her, but the more I looked at her pretty face, the more I saw she intended it for a grin and nothing more or less, and when I told her that with her mother so low, and probably not another friend in the world, and not a stitch to her back, she had blamed little to be smiling!"

All that afternoon Helmi lay debating, considering, pondering. Would she go or would she stay. It seemed a good place to step out—perhaps she might get a chance to try life again, or maybe she might just sit still like this. That would be the best, just to lie like this where everything was warm and quiet and nothing mattered. Though her eyes were closed tight she could see the snow falling—covering her up, weaving, rolling, eddying around her, and burying her deeper and deeper. She loved the feel of it on her face, which was so hot and dry and burning; and on her heart, which was so lonely; and she hoped the snow would keep on falling until her heart would be buried so deep she could not feel it aching.

There is nothing repulsive in Miller's Worm Powders, and they are as pleasant to take as sugar, so that few children will refuse them. In some cases they cause vomiting through their action in an unclean stomach, but this is only a manifestation of their cleansing power, no indication that they are harmful. They can be thoroughly depended upon to clear worms from the system.

Progress in Civil Aviation
Twenty-One Organizations Are Now Operating in Canada
The reports of the civil organizations operating aircraft for the year 1927 show an all-round increase in all forms of aerial activity. The organizations operating aircraft have grown from 10 in 1925 and 16 in 1926, to 21 in 1927. The mileage flown has risen from 255,828 in 1925 to 825,010 in 1927.

Passenger traffic showed a tremendous advance, due very likely to the increasing popularity of short pleasure flights. The accident returns for licensed aircraft and pilots show a decrease of one in the number of flying accidents causing death or injury, of which there were four in 1927 and five in 1928. These involved the death of two pilots and two passengers and the injury of one pilot and two passengers as against two persons killed and eight persons injured in 1926.

Your mild laxative has been of valuable assistance in keeping my system in a daily healthy condition."

Most Records Made in B.C.

Items of Coast Province Lead in Egg Production

It is but a few years ago that the 300-egg hen was something to marvel at. The time has arrived, however, when this distinction is by no means rare. In the record of performance carried on by the Live-stock Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, 27 birds during the past year exceeded the 300-egg mark, the highest being 338. R. W. Zavitz, supervisor of this work, reports that all but four of these records were made in British Columbia. During the first five months of the year, 20 per cent. of the 32,175 birds entered won record of performance certificates by reason of laying upward of 150 eggs each during the year, and of these about one-third won advanced certificates by laying 225 or more eggs during the twelve-month period.

A NEW INVENTION THAT IS GOING TO BRING COMFORT AND EASE TO THE SHIVER

Every one in a while we read of someone who has come along with a device to solve a problem. In the case of the new invention, it is a device to bring comfort and ease to the shiver. The device is a small, portable, and easy to use. It is a device that is going to bring comfort and ease to the shiver. The device is a small, portable, and easy to use. ECZEMA BROKE OUT IN RASH
Child Very Cross and Fretful. Cuticura Heals.
"When my little sister was four months old eczema broke out in a rash on her face and neck. It itched and burned causing her to scream. She was very cross and fretful, and used to lay awake half the night. The trouble lasted six months of others."

"A friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment so my mother purchased some and after using five boxes of Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap, the rash disappeared. She was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Thomas C. C. Clerville, N.S.

TASK SOMETIMES DIFFICULT

Food Enters Largely Into Training of Animals At London Zoo

Of the two Komodo dragons in the London Zoo, one is already tame enough to feed from the hand he fancies eggs—and to go for walks led by the keeper. The other is still wild.

But the fact that one of them has been tamed is a real triumph of scientific handling, for these newly-discovered wonder-creatures are the most savage and powerful of their kind.

If it can be managed, every Zoo inmate is tamed sufficiently to permit of handling, for it greatly improves their chances in the event of illness. The most wonderful case is that of the giant conger eel in the Aquarium. This sea-creature, when fed, will allow the keeper to lift her out of the water and nurse her in the face of the water. This brings the submissive monster to the meeting place.

Poisonous bird-eating spiders are tamed in the insect House till they allow the keeper to pick them up, while a leopard who had lung-tumor permitted his chest to be rubbed with liniment. While the keeper's right hand was at work the leopard kept the man's left hand in his jaws and gently nuzzled it—perhaps as a kind of homage.

Though the Zoo has never tamed a British wild cat, yet the diabolical rage of at least one Tasmanian Devil has yielded there to the patience of a keeper. The Devil—whose tradition is only subdued by a charge of buckshot—could be picked up and held like a squalling child.

It is amazing, as a last instance to see the sticklebacks in the Aquarium when a keeper lowers his hand into the water with food in his palm. The tiny fish push their way through his fingers and fall to like fowls in a farm-yard.

Ostend to Celebrate

Raid Of Vindictive

Allied Warships Are Invited To Observe Tenth Anniversary

Ostend is preparing a fete for the 10th anniversary of the Vindictive raid, and American, French and other allied warships and their crews are invited to take part in the celebration. The main feature of the fete will be a procession through the streets of Ostend, somewhat on the lines of St. George's Day.

The celebration does not take place on St. George's Day but on June 3, the first Sunday after Whit-sunday. American, British, French, Belgian, and Italian warships are coming to Ostend for the regatta, and are to be invited to the fete by day and show multi-colored lights at night for the fete. Deputations from the crews will march in the procession.

"The keel of the Vindictive, lying now in a quayside at Ostend, and carefully painted to prevent rotting, will be placed on an immense car and drawn through the streets. Behind the car will march the survivors of the crew who can witness the course of naval operations off the Belgian coast ten years ago next May, the British Navy was able to sink the old battleship Vindictive, which was her own best blockading agent from that port, which was being used by the Germans as a naval base.

Faces Changed Conditions

Civilized Man Has Acquired Much Knowledge During Last Century

Today civilized man is confronted by immensely changed conditions. They are due, in the main, to his own discoveries in the region of science. In the last hundred years he has seen more fruit of the Tree of Knowledge than any previous generation of which there is record. He has acquired unprecedented power over the forces of nature. He has moved by air, land or water with hitherto unheard of speed. He has facilities for incessant communication that heretofore have been unknown.

One of all these things so as to make them serve and not injure his physical and mental capacity and welfare is a speculation that goes beyond the power of science. "Knowledge is the greatest blessing," wrote Tennyson, at a time when thought was being enlarged, and exhilarated by the discoveries of science.—Viscount Grey.

Little Helps For This Week

"Ask, and ye shall receive."—John xvi. 24.

O Dumb, deaf, blind, receive! Shall He who made the ear not hear you cry?

Doth He not tenderly see who made the eye?

Ask Me that I may give.

—Adeline D. T. Welney.

There is nothing they are absolutely too small, for us to bring to the One of all compassion. I think it is the going to God with our every want that He loves. Hence the often we go to the more we please Him, for the going to the One is, in essence, little things, is but demonstrating our entire dependence on Him; and surely this dependence, this trust, is what makes us the children of our Heavenly Father.—Rose Porter.

Unable to Work

"Gin Pills—Wonderful Remedy"

"We receive thousands of letters yearly from grateful users of Gin Pills, who have been relieved of suffering from kidney and bladder trouble. When Nature fails to do her proper share of eliminating harmful waste through the kidneys, bladder and bowels, a remedy must be found. Many people have found Gin Pills to be this remedy. Among them, James Johnson of Bridgeburg, Ont. He writes:

"I was troubled with pains across the kidneys for two years. I was unable to do any work, I read about the Gin Pills and got a box right away. I took them and after a few days I was able to do my work. I am now well and am sure you will find them a wonderful remedy."

Neglect of kidney trouble spells disaster. Lumbago, Rheumatism and Sciatica are as well as bladder and urinary troubles. Get a box of Gin Pills at all druggists. National Medicine Co., Ltd., 100 St. George Street, Toronto, Canada.
